DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION & HUMAN RESOURCE MANAGEMENT

As a discipline Public Administration originated and developed in USA in 19TH century onwards. In India, we should bear n mind administrative studies preceded the formal instruction in the subject of Public Administration in the colleges and universities. The teaching of Public Administration in India began as part of teaching in the subject of political science in 1930s. When Lucknow University first included Public Administration as a compulsory paper in MA Political science syllabus. Madras University was the first in the country to introduce a diploma course in Public Administration as early as in 1937 Nagpur University was the first one in India to setup a separate department of Public Administration and local self government in 1949. With this, Public Administration acquired full a academic legitimacy for the first time in the country.

In 1954, the Indian Institute of Public Administration was established in New Delhi on the recommendation of the American expert in Public Administration Paul H. Apple by's report. In 1958 the Indian School of Public Administration was setup as a part of Indian Institute of Public Administration Lucknow University was also the first Institute post graduate Degree course in Public Administration, 1959.

The major duty of Public Administration is to prepare civil servants for working in the public service and the management of public programmes.
